Pittsburgh History Landmarks Foundation : Pittsburgh Then and Now before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Pittsburgh Then and Now:

I bought this for my husband as a reminder of our trip and we both have really enjoyed it. You can pick it up and then come back to it. The comparison photos of then and now are awesome. My mother has lived in and around Pittsburgh all her life and she loves history. She'll be receiving a copy by Christmas, if not sooner! It can be a coffee table book or one for discussion starting. If it is out, it will be picked up and looked at. Enjoy it, Burgh Buffs!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Carl F. SmukallGreat images of how Pittsburgh has transformed.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Love this book!By Book LoverI lived in Pittsburgh as a child many years ago and really enjoy the pictures and descriptions. I love the layout with old pictures and newer ones of same location on opposite pages. My 97 year old mother lived in Pittsburgh for much of her life and this book brings back so many memories for her. Thank you, Mr. Kidney!

Pittsburgh rose to industrial prominence thanks to an easy supply of coal and limestone, and by the Civil War the iron industry was thriving. Andrew Carnegie made his fortune here and Pittsburgh became the steel town, endowing Allegheny County with some architectural masterpieces. In the late 20th century, the steel industry went into steep decline and the city has reclaimed these sites in an astonishing transformation. Pittsburgh: Then and Now shows how much the city has come on its journey to a new economy. Sites include: views from Mount Washington, Smithfield Street Bridge, Monongahela Wharf, Bouquet's Redoubt, Union Station, Sixth Street Bridge, Forbes Field, PNC Park, Duquesne Incline, Eliza Furnaces, Polish Hill, Fifth Avenue, Carnegie Institute, Cathedral of Learning, Phipps Conservatory, Pitt Stadium, Luna Park, and Highland Park.

About the Author The Pittsburgh History Landmarks Foundation (PHLF) was founded in 1964 by a group of citizens who passionately believed that historic preservation, rather than massive demolition, could be a tool for renewing communities, building pride among residents, and achieving sustainable economic development.
