Minor but helpful details, such as some little walking paths, were marked on the map. I was able to navigate successfully around little neighborhoods with twisting streets. The tourist landmarks that I needed were clearly shown on the map. The various metro lines, and stops, were also shown on the map. It folded up and was easy to put in my handbag. There was also a little overview map showing the subway lines out to the airport, a small street map of Piraeus, and a map of Greece and the islands. I've used these Streetwise maps before, and the Streetwise Athens did not disappoint. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. This map was very confusing to use until we got ... By Tracy This map was very confusing to use until we got our bearings in Athens. It is a full map, with half on one side and half on the other. So literally when you flip it, it is a continuation of the other side. Maps we have used in the past had main parts of the city zoomed in even though it's on the big map. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Useful Tool for Walking Athens By Average Joe 12 This was a useful (and durable) tool for walking the streets of Athens. Packed easily into my day pack and it saw a lot of use! The laminate is "heavy duty" and this map folds easily into its original "shape." If you are planning a trip to Athens, I recommend this map as well as the "Frommer's Day to Day" guide for Athens, Greece. And, if you are thinking of a trip to Athens, wait until the unrest cools a bit and then go take it in. GREAT food and friendly people. Lodging can be a bit pricey, but food is very reasonable (and you will want a lot of it!) and it is a city where most sights are accessible on foot. You'll not regret a visit to Greece.

Streetwise Athens Map - Laminated City Center Street Map of Athens, Greece - Folding pocket size travel map with integrated metro map This map covers the following areas: Main Athens Map 1:9,000 Piraeus Inset Map 1:21,000 Greece the Aegean Map 1:3,300,000 Anyone who visits Greece is drawn to visit the Acropolis of Athens. It houses the Parthenon, sitting majestically on the hill, and offers terrific views of the bustling capital below. Go early or late in the day to avoid the afternoon heat. Mid-day, visit some museums or relax in a cafe with an ouzo. Athens is loaded with museums, and the National Archaeological Museum ranks among the top ten in the world. The Plaka, located downhill from the Acropolis, is one of the oldest parts of modern Athens. The old market, where philosophers Socrates and Plato once walked and talked, is known as the Ancient Agora. The Psiri, working class neighborhood by day, is the hip nightlife district. All these sites, places, hotels and metro stations are easy to locate with the STREETWISE Athens Map. For those venturing outside Athens, there is a detailed map of the port town of Piraeus, where all ferries and cruise ships make their departure for the Greek Islands. And because no trip is complete without visiting at least one Greek Island, a map of the Greek Islands with major ferry routes is also included. "Don't leave home without STREETWISE" -- New York Times "STREETWISE is an absolute travel essential" -- Travel Leisure 'In a strange city, your sense of direction is only as good as the map in your hands. The best maps to carry are published by STREETWISE.' -- Chicago Daily Herald About the Author STREETWISE is the first map to be designed with modern graphics and is the originator of the laminated, accordion-fold map format. We've set the standard that every map company has imitated but never duplicated. Our mission is to make you feel comfortable, to make you feel safe in a place where you've never been before and to enable you to experience a familiar place more fully. The company was founded in 1984 by Michael Brown, who had been in international publishing for many years, setting up subsidiaries for textbook publishers. In the 1970s, Brown traveled extensively throughout Africa, India, the Middle East and Southeast Asia. Brown would take a large paper map, cut out the city center, folded it up and slip it into his pocket, thus preventing him from looking like a tourist in areas where discretion is the better part of travel. This was his tool for surviving. After many years on the road, Brown settled back in New York and decided to start his own business, based on the adaptations he had made to maps in his travels. His goal was to give someone the ability to navigate easily in unfamiliar terrain. He started with a new map format: the accordion fold. Such a simple idea, but at the time it was revolutionary. No more struggling to fold an awkward, oversized paper map. This new format would enable the user to blend in like a native, instead of stick out like a tourist. Brown then added lamination to ensure that the map would be a lasting tool. More important than the format was the design of the map itself. It had to be a map that not only succeeded above and beyond any map he had used, but was esthetically appealing as well. The look of it had to be as striking as the functionality. Color was introduced in a way that was never seen before in a map - vivid purple for water, soothing gray for the background of street grids, gold to highlight elements of the map. Clarity, conciseness and convenience in a very stylish package. Building the business was a 24 hour job. Brown sold the maps during the day, zipping around Manhattan making deliveries on his Harley Davidson. At night he packed the orders and did the design work. More titles were added, each title requiring months of research and design. Today, STREETWISE produces over 130 titles for major destinations, regions and countries throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Australia, Europe, the United Kingdom and Asia. We have grown from the back of a motorcycle to selling millions of maps around the world. Yet each title is still painstakingly researched and updated. STREETWISE is one of the only, if not THE only map company that conducts research by walking or driving an area to ensure accuracy. After all, what good is the map if what you hold in your hands doesn't match what you see on the street sign? This lengthy fact checking results in superior accuracy; in effect, we've done the work, now you have the adventure. In the end, it's not about the map, it's about getting out and finding your own authentic experience wherever you go. It's about being in a city or a region and discovering things that you never thought you would find. You can do this if you have confidence and you have confidence if you have a great map. STREETWISE is the great map that you need.
