National Geographic Maps - Reference : Texas [Tubed] (National Geographic Reference Map) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Texas [Tubed] (National Geographic Reference Map):

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. like an old picture adhering to glass By Jennifer Guerrero The map itself is lovely. The problem is that the very bottom of it sticks to the base of the tube, like an old picture adhering to glass, so it's impossible to get it out without tearing the bottom. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Disappointed By SAtraveler Purchased for my daughter and son-in-law, it wasn't what I was expecting. Disappointed, it looks like just an ordinary map. 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Texas Our Texas By Mackenzie Mullins This is an awesome map. Even my hometown of San Angelo is on here. It is hard to find a frame for since it is an odd shape, but the quality of the map itself is awesome. It looks pretty snazzy hanging on my wall. The letters are large enough to read but not so large it is distracting. The color scheme makes it look like something you'd see in a library, not an elementary classroom.

National Geographic's wall map of Texas brings the rich and diverse topography of the state to life in elegant detail. Mountain ranges, prominent peaks, major lakes, rivers, and reservoirs, and other geographic features are highlighted. In addition to hundreds of place names, this map includes the precise locations of cities, major roadways and railways, airports, military bases, and national and state parks. Stunning shaded relief and vibrant colorization distinguishes mountain ranges, forests, deserts, valleys, and other physical topography including a portion of the Gulf of Mexico. The Texas portion of the Intracoastal Waterway is shown from Brownsville to the Louisiana border. Part of a growing series of State Wall Maps, this expertly designed map makes an attractive addition to any office or study. The map is packaged in a two inch diameter clear plastic tube. The tube has a decorative label showing a thumbnail of the map with dimensions and other pertinent information. Map Scale = 1:1,314,433 Sheet Size = 40.75" x 38.5"
